

All Saints Catholic School Collections

All Saints Catholic School is still collecting Coke product lids and pop tabs. Please drop these off at the school or the Cabrini Parish Center reception desk.

Welcoming Celebration

Please join us to celebrate with those who were baptized or came into full communion with the Catholic Church during the Easter Vigil Mass. We will gather in the Cabrini Center gym after the 9 am Mass on Sunday, April 30th. All are welcome!

Hearts of CUES Guild

Come learn about the Hearts of CUES Guild that supports All Saints, Holy Name and Sacred Heart schools. Our mission is to assist these schools in helping students, teachers and parents. Come learn how you can be part of this exciting mission. Our next meeting is Tuesday, April 25th, at 11:30 am at Sacred Heart School (2205 Binney Street). Please RSVP to Terri Laughlin at Theresa.laughlin@gmail.com or (402) 215-5388.

Music in Catholic Schools

Music in Catholic Schools is the 5th through 8th grade band program in the Omaha Archdiocese. We have a band instrument inventory that we use to provide instruments to those students whose families could not afford to rent or buy an instrument of their own. This is such a worthwhile program for all students! Do you have an instrument sitting around that you might be willing to donate to MCS? We are especially in need of Flutes, Clarinets, and Alto Saxophones, but we would also accept Oboes, Trumpets, French Horns, Trombones, Baritones/Euphoniums, Tubas, and Percussion Kits (snare drum, bells, or combo kit). Please contact Annette Wallace at amwallace@archomaha.org or call (402) 827-3724.

Archdiocesan Healing Service and Reception

Have you or someone you love been affected by the trauma of abuse? From childhood to adulthood, abuse takes many forms and occurs in families, churches and communities. The Archdiocese of Omaha invites anyone impacted by abuse to come together and pray for the healing of wounds. Archbishop Lucas will preside. This is not a Mass. We welcome people of all faiths, walks of life and backgrounds to join us. There will be an opportunity to pray silently or with another person. A reception with light refreshments will immediately follow, Monday, April 24th, at St. Elizabeth Ann Seton (5419 N. 114th Street), starting at 7 pm.

Divine Mercy

Revelation from the Lord to St. Faustina: “My daughter, tell the whole world about My inconceivable mercy. I desire that the Feast of Mercy be a refuge and a shelter for all souls, and especially for poor sinners. On that day the very depths of My tender mercy are open.

Easter Season Bible Study

Fr. Damian will be guiding a five-week study of St. Paul’s letter to the Romans beginning this Wednesday at 7 pm in the Parish Center. The class will also be available via Zoom online. (Contact Deacon Doug Lenz at dalenz@archomaha.org to receive a Zoom link). While widely acknowledged as the single most influential document in Christian history, Paul’s letter has also attracted the most comment. During the period of the Reformation it was the single piece of scripture that launched a revolution in thinking about salvation while at the same time some of its major points were boldly ignored. Paul presents a God in this letter who always acts inclusively, the God who through Jesus included the Gentile people within the community of salvation. He argues that we can see God’s original design for humanity through the life and teaching of Jesus. The first session will cover an introduction to St. Paul, an overview of the letter, the events happening in Rome at the time and the points Paul desires to make in the letter. Please bring a bible with you to the study. All are welcome!

Pastor's Letter

Dear Friends,

The first Sunday after Easter is Divine Mercy Sunday. This was started by Pope John Paul in 2000. Its announcement was part of the millennium celebration and the canonization of St. Faustina. As John Paul encouraged, we can never reflect too much on God's mercy because the evil one is constantly tempting us to think that we are not worthy of God's love and forgiveness. This heresy of unworthiness has haunted the Church over the centuries. God has responded again and again by inspiring saints to remind us that we are loved, we are forgiven, that this is the reason why Jesus came to us.

Pope John Paul II re-emphasized the message of mercy in the resurrection context of Easter, "Jesus said to St. Faustina one day: 'Humanity will never find peace until it turns with trust to Divine Mercy'. Divine Mercy! This is the Easter gift that the Church receives from the risen Christ and offers to humanity." John Paul II, who died in April 2005 on the vigil of Divine Mercy Sunday, was himself beatified on Divine Mercy Sunday, May 1, 2011, by Pope Benedict, and was canonized together with Pope John XXIII on Divine Mercy Sunday, April 27, 2014, by Pope Francis.

To honor this day, I offer you a part of a beautiful homily given by Pope Francis on Divine Mercy:

Last Sunday we celebrated the Lord's resurrection; today we witness the resurrection of his disciple. It has already been a week, a week since the disciples had seen the Risen Lord, but in spite of this, they remained fearful, cringing behind "closed doors", unable even to convince Thomas, the only one absent, of the resurrection. What does Jesus do in the face of this timorous lack of belief? He returns and, standing in the same place, "in the midst" of the disciples, he repeats his greeting: "Peace be with you!". He starts all over. The resurrection of his disciple begins here, from this faithful and patient mercy, from the discovery that God never tires of reaching out to lift us up when we fall. He wants us to see him, not as a taskmaster with whom we have to settle accounts, but as our Father who always raises us up. In life we go forward tentatively, uncertainly, like a toddler who takes a few steps and falls; a few steps more and falls again, yet each time his father puts him back on his feet. The hand that always puts us back on our feet is mercy: God knows that without mercy we will remain on the ground, that in order to keep walking, we need to be put back on our feet.

You may object: "But I keep falling!". The Lord knows this and he is always ready to raise you up. He does not want us to keep thinking about our failings; rather, he wants us to look to him. For when we fall, he sees children needing to be put back on their feet; in our failings he sees children in need of his merciful love. Today, in this church that has become a shrine of mercy in Rome, and on this Sunday that Saint John Paul II dedicated to Divine Mercy twenty years ago, we confidently welcome this message. Jesus said to Saint Faustina: "I am love and mercy itself; there is no human misery that could measure up to my mercy". At one time, the Saint, with satisfaction, told Jesus that she had offered him all of her life and all that she had. But Jesus' answer stunned her: "You have not offered me the thing that is truly yours". What had that holy nun kept for herself? Jesus said to her with kindness: "My daughter, give me your failings". We too can ask ourselves: "Have I given my failings to the Lord? Have I let him see me fall so that he can raise me up?" Or is there something I still keep inside me? A sin, a regret from the past, a wound that I have inside, a grudge against someone, an idea about a particular person... The Lord waits for us to offer him our failings so that he can help us experience his mercy.

Pope Francis goes on to say, once we have embraced God's mercy, we will be able to be merciful to others. May we come to know God's mercy in a deeper way today and may we share that gift with others.

Peace,

Fr. Damian
