Spirit Catholic Radio’s EWTN and Catholic Answers Symposium on The Eucharist

Jack Williams, General Manager of EWTN Radio, will serve as emcee at St. Robert Bellarmine Church (11802 Pacific Street) as The Eucharist: Source and Summit of our Faith is explored. The dates are Friday, April 26th from 7 to 9:30 pm, and Saturday, April 27th from 9 am to 4:30 pm. A bookstore will be open before, during and after the symposium, and a Saturday lunch is available for pre-purchase. Participants include Fr. Wade Menezes, Tim Staples, Coleen Kelly Mast, Joe Heschmeyer, and Stacy Trasancos. To reserve your $25 tickets, visit spiritcatholicradio.com/april

Christ Our Life Conference

The Christ Our Life Conference for our searching souls is held every two years at the Wells Fargo Arena in Des Moines, Iowa, the last weekend of September. This year’s dates are September 28th and 29th. It is also live-streamed for those unable to attend in-person. An all weekend pass is $30 for an adult (in-person or live-stream), no charge for student or youth attendees. Simultaneous interpretation will be provided in Spanish. Speakers include Bishop William Joensen, leader of the Des Moines Diocese; Fr. Robert Spitzer, a host of EWTN TV’s “Father Spitzer’s Universe” where he explains the complementarity of science, faith and philosophy; Msgr. Stephen Rossetti, sharing knowledge gained as Chief Exorcist of the Archdiocese of Washington for 13 years, and as a licensed psychologist; Fr. Craig Vasek, who energizes Catholics to increase their connection to the Eucharist; Sr. Josephine Garret, raised a Baptist and a former banker, she took her final vows in 2020 and is passionate about youth and the sacred importance of family; Jeff Cavins, a biblical scholar who teaches and writes on a vast realm of subjects (we have previously used some of his Bible Studies here); Jason Evert, who shares the message of purity and inspires all to live as Jesus desires as he travels in six continents; Magnus McFarlane-Barrow, CEO of Mary’s Meals feeding over 2.4 million hungry children daily, and Steve Angrisano, leading music and sharing stories to inspire and enrich our faith. If You Enjoy Fr. Damian’s Homilies, You’re Going to LOVE This...

The Catholic Church describes the Eucharist as “the source and summit of the Christian faith” (CCC 1324). The National Eucharistic Revival is a movement to restore understanding and devotion to this great mystery in the United States by helping us renew our worship of Jesus Christ in the Eucharist. On our website stcabriniomaha.org, you can join Fr. Damian as he takes us on a journey focused on the Eucharist and what it means to us. These videos were created for our Cabrini Communities at St. Frances Cabrini and so some of you may have seen them. If you haven’t or would like to see them again, simply go to the website and click on “Eucharist, The Ultimate Gift”. Enjoy!

Pastor's Letter

Dear Friends,

Many moons ago, when I was a child, our culture was shaped by a handful of television shows that almost everyone watched. As children, we would reenact the episodes in the backyard or in the basement. Certain ideas were strongly reinforced through the stories presented in the shows and then played out in our own reenactments.

One of those shows that comes to mind for me in the Easter season is The Lone Ranger where the hero is not really known, enacts justice from outside the system and leaves behind a silver bullet to remind the local folks to live a life of justice. The mask he wore was also meant to be a symbol of justice – not decided by personalities or wealth but, like the ancient statues of a blindfolded justice, was decided by truth alone.

Perhaps some of you remember the background story of The Lone Ranger. Here's a summary: "In 1874, six Texas Rangers were betrayed by a guide and ambushed at Bryant's Gap. Five died, the sixth was left for dead and would have died that day but for an amazing coincidence. After the shooting was over, an Indian man happened upon the scene of the ambush. The ranger who was wounded but still clinging to life had saved that Indian from outlaw raiders a few years earlier, when the two were just boys. The Indian recognized his former companion, carried him into a nearby cave and nursed him back to health. He has been The Lone Ranger ever since. On radio, in movies, in novels, on television, in comic books, his story has been embroidered, embellished and rewritten. But he always wore a mask, he always pursued justice and he never accepted praise or payment" (NPR Story).

As kids, it was always fun to be the Lone Ranger because he always won even if it looked like everything was going bad along the way. You could be captured or pinned down by gunfire or in a burning building and somehow goodness won out. Your faithful friend was a Native American who you could trust with your life and who never said too much while you rode to the next town. The series taught us to fight for justice, to care for those who could not care for themselves, to be free of racial and religious prejudice and to take personal risks to make the world a better place.

I suppose it comes to mind during the Easter Season because these TV series picked up on what were strong themes in Jesus' teaching and the experience of the Paschal Mystery where death is overcome by the resurrection. And, since Jesus will soon be leaving his friends behind as he ascends to heaven, it is like the Lone Ranger riding off into the sunset and leaving some reminder behind.

Of course, The Lone Ranger was just fantasy and play while the tough fact of our real human life—as individuals and as communities—is of course messy, complex, a tangle of good and bad motivations and actions. But this doesn't make the "triumph of good" story a mere fantasy. These human stories represent our deepest desire: we ache for the good in ourselves and in our world to win out. We ache for the truth of Jesus' teaching to become real in our world. Isn't that Easter?

Peace,

Fr. Damian
