Cabrini Care Meals

Want to support expecting parents but not sure how? Cabrini’s Young Families Fellowship is organizing meal trains for families welcoming a new baby. Volunteers sign up to deliver meals on scheduled days, with dietary restrictions provided in advance. To join the email list for future meal trains—or to request meals as an expecting family - please contact Nicole Bourne at ndbourne23@gmail.com.

Cabrini/Mary Magdalene Young Families Fellowship

When parents are supported, families flourish. However, our world today makes meaningful connections hard to find and form. That’s why we are introducing a fellowship for families of young children to create opportunities to walk through spirit-led parenting together. Come as you are as often or as little as makes sense for your family.

Eucharistic Adoration for Little Ones & Their Families – Join us for a special time of prayer and community designed for young children and their families. We’ll gather on Saturday, July 19 at 10 am at St. Frances Cabrini for 30 minutes of Eucharistic Adoration. After Adoration, come enjoy coffee and fellowship across the street in the Parish Center gym.

Pray and Play – Join us for playtime and daily Mass with other young families. Come for play, prayer, or both – whatever fits your day! If the temperature is below 50°, above 95°, or raining, we’ll meet for Mass only.

2nd Wednesday of each month:

10:00 am — Playtime at The Riverfront Gene Leahy Mall (by the main stage)

11:30 am — Mass at St. Frances Cabrini

4th Wednesday of each month:

5:15 pm — Mass at St. Mary Magdalene

6:00 pm — Playtime at The Riverfront Gene Leahy Mall (by the main stage)

Seven Sisters Apostolate

Do you desire to pray intentionally for your parish priest? The Seven Sisters Apostolate form groups of 7 women, each dedicated to pray one Holy Hour a week for a priest so that there is intentional prayer for the priest each and every day. We are looking for more members for our Seven Sisters group for Father Damian. If you are interested in joining the group, please reach out to Diana at dianaabritop@gmail.com with any questions. You can also look up more information

The Most Holy Trinity

“But when he comes, the Spirit of truth, he will guide you to all truth...” (JOHN 16:13)

It has been said that the best gift we can give someone is to teach them how to pray. If you don't talk and more importantly, listen, to God every day, how else will you know what He is calling you to do? Just as you talk to family and friends every day, get in the habit of talking with God every day. Develop a daily prayer routine. Keep your prayers simple and sincere. This is best done in silence, when you can hear God's response.

Pastor's Letter

Dear Friends,

Fr. Damian is in Guatemala on mission this week. Let's keep him and the Ixim crew in our prayers. And because he is away, you're stuck with a note from me.

This weekend we honor our fathers, grandfathers and those men who have been father figures to us. We honor those who have embraced the sacred calling of fatherhood – with love, sacrifice, tenderness and presence. For me, like many of you, my life has been abundantly blessed by good men who helped shape me into the father and OPA (grandpa) I am today.

Just this week I was having a conversation with friends about fatherly advice they had received in their childhood. Some advice was funny, “Stay away from Carter Lake!”. Other advice was insightful, “Not much good happens after 12 am!”. And some was truer than we would like to admit, “Tell me who your friends are, and I will tell you who you are”. As I reflect on this conversation, I realize my own father was not big on sharing verbal advice or little pearls of wisdom. Disappointing? Not really. Why? For two main reasons...

First, while my dad had few pieces of verbal advice, my father-in-law made up for that and then some. He had a line for everything. He was wise, funny and charismatic, and as a result, people were drawn to him. Once they were close, he would share what he knew to be true - that the main goal in life is to remain close to Jesus, always. Countless times he shared, “People in this world will let you down...every one of them...but God never will.” Certainly, great advice and he was not shy about sharing it. It didn't matter if you were the delivery driver, the clerk, the parish priest, and yes, even the boy dating his daughter... he charmed his way into each heart and then authentically shared the Good News of Jesus. As a simple farmer, I found that amazing. Now that he has passed on, I treasure his words of wisdom even more.

Secondly, my dad is a man who is trustworthy, generous, kind – also a man of deep faith. While he didn't share lots of tidbits of wisdom/advice, he showed me by his example how to live as a husband, dad and deacon. He lived a life of sacrifice for our family and rarely, if ever, did things for himself. His life has been the exact opposite of self-serving. I think for him it isn't about saying the right things as much as it is about doing the right things, living a life worthy of imitation. While neither man was perfect, each showed me a glimpse of Divine Love, which I hope I have also shared (verbally and by example) with my own kids/grandkids/maybe even you.

Both of these fathers (and countless other father figures) loved me enough to share themselves in their own unique way. I am forever grateful and know that their advice and examples have greatly impacted me and so many others. Through the love and care of our fathers we hopefully can see glimpses of something greater, our God. This weekend we celebrate the great mystery of the Holy Trinity. Perhaps we're being invited to notice how fatherhood is meant to be a divine reflection... a good father reflects the love of the Father, the sacrifice of the Son and the guidance of the Holy Spirit.

For the fathers among us, your love has eternal weight. With God's grace, your quiet sacrifices, example, humility, self-giving love reflects the eternal love of the Trinity. Today and always may you know how important your God given role is in the life of those God has entrusted to your care.

Happy Father's Day,

Deacon Doug
