Cabrini Family Dinner March 1st

What to Expect: All are welcome! Come as you are. These dinners are meant to be relaxed, joyful, and real. No pressure, no perfection.

The Food: At each dinner, we will provide a main dish and ask everyone to bring a side dish and their own drinks if possible. It's not about the food, it's about being together. Runza Chili is on the menu for March. We don't know how many people will come. RSVPs are welcome, but never required. We'd rather have you show up unexpectedly than stay away because you didn't sign up.

The Space: We'll gather from 6 to 8 pm in the Cabrini Center Gym. If you'd like to drop off food, attend the 5:30 pm Sunday evening Mass, then come over for the dinner, that's perfect.

The Stories: Because that's what families do. Each dinner will include a story, shared around 7 pm. Josh Cyrus will share in March – if you don't know him yet, you should.

The Heart of It All: More than anything, this is about sharing time together. Sharing life, laughter and faith. Feel free to invite friends and neighbors. Everyone has a place at the table. If any of this sounds good to you, please join us. We think you'll be glad you did. For questions, to help, or to RSVP, please contact:

Ann Lenz at amlenz@archomaha.org or Alysia Radicia at aceradicia@gmail.com

Fifth Sunday in Ordinary Time
February 8, 2026

We will be re-launching Cabrini & Magdalene Communities in March of 2026.

Please prayerfully consider creating one or joining one if you're not already participating!

What are Cabrini & Magdalene Communities? They are smaller communities (small groups) within our larger Church community. We are striving to be more intentional about practicing the way of Jesus, together – transforming the world around us. As the family of God, we take time each month to eat together, pray together, and share life together.

How do you create a Cabrini & Magdalene Community? First, pray about who the Holy Spirit might be calling you to walk with. Maybe you'll invite a few people you already know and care for and a few people you'd love to know better. Maybe you'll invite someone you know needs more friendship or care shown to them. Maybe you'll invite co-workers, family members or neighbors. If you are married, you may ask other couples or maybe you desire to be with an all-female or an all-male group. How you select your group member(s) is between you and God. Whoever the Spirit puts on your heart to invite, simply take a leap of faith and invite them. We recommend 6 to 10 people in each group.

Once the Cabrini & Magdalene Community is formed, how does it work? On the first day of each month, the parish sends the facilitator of the group an outline – a prayer format, a short video, and questions to guide the discussion. Yes, the content will be taken care of for you each month. We ask that each Cabrini & Magdalene Community meet monthly, sharing food and drink together.

Where are Cabrini & Magdalene Communities held? Your community can gather in a home (preferably), a private room at a restaurant, or at our church/Community Center.

How do I sign up? For more information or to create a Cabrini & Magdalene Community, contact Ann Lenz amlenz@archomaha.org or Deacon Doug Lenz dalenz@archomaha.org.

A Neighbor Finds Hope

During a recent visit, we had a neighbor who was in need of some financial assistance to stop the shut off of her utility.

She was concerned about her granddaughter that she gained custody of after her daughter was killed in a domestic violence situation.

We determined that we were able to help her and asked to say a prayer with her. We try to personalize our prayers and upon completion, she thanked us and said no one had ever prayed for her with her.

Your donations help us make a difference.

Thank you for supporting the mission of SVdP at Cabrini!

Pastor's Letter

Dear Friends,

As I mentioned the past couple of weeks, our Cabrini and Magdalene Communities are about to launch a new season in March. If you are not in a community, this is a great time to join one or to form one. Those of you who are already in a community know the value of joining with other people of faith once a month to pray together, share fellowship and food, and grow in your discipleship by learning and sharing together. Many of our groups have been meeting for four years.

So why does the Church encourage people to be involved in small faith sharing groups? Let me give you some reasons:

First, it is what Jesus did. When we watch the television series, The Chosen, it is obvious that Jesus formed them into a group so that they could learn from each other and be supported by the others. After Jesus' death and resurrection, it was how the early Church operated. In the Acts of the Apostles, St. Luke writes, "So those who received his word were baptized... And they devoted themselves to the apostles' teaching and fellowship, to the breaking of bread and the prayers." It wasn't just at the temple or a meeting hall where teaching took place. It was in small groups getting together in house churches. Acts tells us about 3,000 people being baptized in one day but those 3,000 did not meet each week as a large group; they met in homes to be assured of the ongoing presence of Jesus in their midst.

Second, to know that you are not alone, to have a common experience with other people. That's a very important dynamic when you're trying to live counter to the culture as a follower of Jesus. When there are others trying to do that, and you meet with them and learn, pray, talk, and share a meal with one another, that's affirming. The small group gives us a place to ask questions, see other people in their journey, and the successes they've enjoyed, or the struggles they've encountered.

Third, to offer support when you find yourself in a struggle. In our Communities, you will have a group of people whom you have grown close to, and with whom you are able to share. When there's somebody in the group who is hurt, or when there's trauma in someone's life, the people in the group surround them and can bring healing, hope, and support to the person who is hurting.

Fourth, it used to be that everyone was a Christian, that you could presume your neighbors believed what you believe. Recent research found that 36% of people living in the United States did not identify as a member of a Christian faith. Our Communities give you the support and encouragement necessary to live as Jesus taught in a world that may not be supportive.

Fifth, one of the reasons people say they do not go to a church is because it's impersonal. They don't know the people there. But a small group allows you to get together with people you may know, with whom you may have something in common. Then you can begin to understand what Jesus taught from that place of fellowship.

All of these reasons, at their heart, are about evangelization. Small groups are the ideal setting to encounter Christ, and it has been this way since the dawn of Christianity. The first Christians knew the value of relationship, not just with Christ but also with one another. Won't you join us this season and come to a deeper encounter with Christ?

Peace,

Fr. Damian
