2026–2027 Registration Open: Catechesis of the Good Shepherd

Catechesis of the Good Shepherd is a children’s Montessori-based faith formation program founded on the belief that young children already have a loving relationship with God. The program seeks to nourish this relationship through prayer, Scripture, and hands-on activities such as exploring the objects used at Mass, kneading bread for a shared meal, and creating prayer cards. Much of each session is devoted to individual work, freely chosen by each child. St. Frances Cabrini is offering a Toddler session for children who are walking independently through 3 years old. Sessions will meet weekly on Saturday mornings from 8:30–10:30 am, beginning September 12, 2026 - May 15, 2027. Space is limited. Register through the QR code or by contacting Nicole Bourne at ndbourne23@gmail.com.

Save the Date!

Do you have the Saturday evening of September 26th reserved on your calendar? If not, please save it for Cabrini’s annual Parking Lot Party. It will start about 6 pm, following the 5 pm Mass. Please feel free to invite neighbors and join us for food, drink, and music. Planning is already in the works and more details will be coming soon!

Making an Impact

Since our financial year began in October 2025, we have assisted our neighbors with nearly $80,000 in direct financial aid. This is double the support provided during the same timeframe last year!

In addition to your local generosity, we successfully secured $27,000 in one-time grants from the SVdP District office. As Vincentians, we are truly blessed to serve as the "hands and feet of Christ," bringing the heart and compassionate spirit of St. Frances Cabrini directly to our neighbors in need.

To help us continue meeting these historic demands, please consider supporting our mission by scanning the

and generosity!

Pastor's Letter

Dear Friends,

You might be wondering how much more Pope Leo wrote in his letter to us? Be assured, in this weekly letter, I have only hit the important points of the first three chapters. We have two more chapters to go. It may take us through the remaining Sundays of summer to get through these last two chapters. Of course, I encourage you to read the whole thing, all 42,000 words for yourselves! Just take it in bite-sized pieces...

Chapter Four covers three dimensions of human life which need to be protected because they are impacted by changes brought about by AI. As Pope Leo states, "When languages and tools change, so do everyday actions and social relationships. For this reason, we must focus on certain areas in which these transformations have particularly concrete, and at times tragic, consequences." Those three areas are truth, work and freedom.

Here are a few of Pope Leo's important points regarding truth:

The use of digital platforms and AI systems is driving profound changes in public and political communication. Tools that could foster dialogue and participation are often used to construct distorted narratives and blur the boundaries between truth and falsehood, mixing facts with opinions. Disinformation did not begin with AI, yet today it finds a powerful amplifier in AI. The ability to manipulate content, images and videos exposes people to biased or misleading perspectives. This problem has both cultural and moral dimensions, since the quality of public communication depends directly on social trust and, in turn, shapes it...Those who command powerful technological and economic resources, along with substantial human capital for intervention, possess significant capabilities for influencing cultural change. Ultimately, they can influence a significant number of people concerning the truth about humanity, the world, the meaning of existence, the family and even God. This is pure power detached from truth, which subtly or overtly imposes what it wishes others to accept as true. At its root lies a deeper and often unrecognized "sickness": the fact that "modern man is wrongly convinced that he is the sole author of himself, his life and society. This is a presumption that follows from being selfishly closed in upon himself...

Our first task is neither to demonize nor idolize technological tools, but to utilize them on the basis of a fundamental principle, namely that truth is a common good and not the property of those with power or influence. We must therefore promote an ecology of communication. On the level of public policy, this entails establishing norms so that the decision-making behind content selection and its development becomes more transparent and protects personal data. Regarding social and cultural aspects, this requires a strengthening of intermediary organizations, serious journalism and forums for debate, where reasoned argumentation and verification carry greater weight than immediate reaction. For families and schools, there is a growing need for new educational awareness and for formation concerning the proper and critical use of digital tools, AI and online commercial and financial platforms. In universities, the principal challenge lies in the integration of knowledge, cultivating both the capacity to connect and synthesize knowledge in order to grasp complexity, and the skills necessary to verify facts.

Christian communities, too, are called to commit themselves to transparency in communication and to the honest pursuit of facts. Sadly, this has not always been the case. We have witnessed with shame the emergence of painful truths concerning even members of the Church and ecclesial realities. In particular, some journalists, driven by a passion for truth, have played a crucial role in bringing injustices and abuses to light. To them, I wish to repeat the words that Pope Francis used in speaking to journalists: "I also thank you for what you tell us about what goes wrong in the Church, for helping us not to sweep it under the carpet, and for the voice you have given to the victims of abuse." Yet vigilance and transparency remain first and foremost a grave responsibility for the Church herself, and we must not wait for others to compel us to confront uncomfortable truths about ourselves.

Pope Leo concludes the section on truth, exploring the importance of education and the protection of young people from the present distortion of truth. Next week, we will look at his section on AI and work.

Peace,

Fr. Damian
